Complete assemblies

Stafa supplies complete assemblies of all kinds of components. In addition to fasteners, we also supply specials, metal parts and components from other industries. Processes are designed to your requirements; products supplied to your specifications. Our complete solutions mean less administration and less impact on your operational activities.

A partner who helps come up with solutions

At Stafa, we believe in the strength of teamwork. That's why we share our expertise with our customers. We generate added value by giving technical advice, including regarding assembly. We follow specifications closely, but not blindly. If we think we can do something more efficiently, we will proactively give you our advice. That's how we optimise your process and our partnership.

Lower your Total Cost of Ownership

Stafa has extensive logistics and production facilities. So, assembly often goes hand-in-hand with stock management and packaging. It is in this combination that the key lies to optimising your supply chain. This means fewer suppliers, better product and stock availability and a lower Total Cost of Ownership.

Stafa provides assembly services for well-established businesses in various sectors:

- ✓ Wholesale & purchasing organisations
- ✓ Construction and infrastructure
- ✓ Transport
- ✓ Energy and chemical industry
- ✓ Wood (processing) industry
- ✓ Installation and electrical sector
